DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,3,5,6,9-11,15,16 and 19-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Goto.

Goto in figure 6 shows a heat exchanger with separate flow areas for three fluids which do not extend across the entire width of the heat exchanger (each of the three fluids which leave the top pass through one third of the width). All fluids in the heat exchanger flow parallel to each other, and are separated by a flow separator. Figure 8 shows inclined plates at the top and bottom of a flow path to control fluid flow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 12-14, 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goto.

Goto discloses applicants' basic inventive concept, a heat exchanger with parallel flow for the fluids with multiple fluids passing through flow areas which do not extend across the entire width of the heat exchanger, substantially as claimed with the exception of the pressure that the heat exchanger functions and the amount of fluids which pass through the heat exchanger. The pressure of the heat exchanger is seen as a matter of obvious design choice for an ordinary practitioner in the art depending on the situation which the heat exchanger is used for. The amount of fluids passing through the heat exchanger is also seen as a matter of obvious design choice for an ordinary practitioner in the art depending on the apparatus the heat exchanger is used in since Goto teaches a heat exchanger with parallel flow and flow areas for each fluid which do not extend across the entire width of the heat exchanger.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 4, 7 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
